

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class mailable matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.
Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, FEBRUARY 14, 1885.

The new heating apparatus is being placed in the Opera House.

Mr. A. C. Wood, having been disappointed so often about the heating of the Opera House, has determined to have no more entertainments there until the new heating apparatus is in, tested, and found to come up to the requirements of making the house comfortable in the coldest weather. He has canceled all engagements and will not again throw the house open to the public until he knows that an audience will not suffer from cold while witnessing an entertainment.

Mr. J. K. Hamilton has executed a first class photograph of the old "Stone School-house" at Woodlake, where so many of our citizens went to school, and to look upon it brings back the many happy hours of childhood spent there. The old buckeye tree is missing and very little of the hillside playground is shown in the picture, but it is the same old house it was a half century ago, and every scholar who obeyed the call to "books" there, or helped to "bar out" a teacher on circus day will want a copy of it. Call and see it at Hamilton's gallery.

Mr. Ed. C. Went, jr., died at the residence of his father, in South Frankfort, Wednesday afternoon, at two and a half o'clock, after a lingering illness, in his nineteenth year. Being a member of the State Guard, he attended the encampment at Louisville in August, and contracted malarial fever, which confined him to bed for several months, but he finally recovered and was going about when he took a cold which settled upon his lungs, producing consumption, of which he died. He was a young man of great promise, universally popular with young and old, and his death is a great blow to his afflicted family. He was a printer by trade and an employe of the Yeoman office. The funeral took place yesterday morning from the Baptist Church, the services being conducted by Rev. G. F. Bagby, the pastor, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. McC. Blayney and Prof. J. D. Pickett.

The steamer Hornet, on her up trip Tuesday morning, was blown against the cribbing at Lock No. 1 by the heavy wind prevailing at the time, and a large hole knocked in her hull. She sank in about twenty minutes in twenty-five feet water, only her Texas remaining above the surface. She had a number of passengers on board, and a large lot of freight. The yawl and life boats belonging to the boat were so tightly frozen to the hurricane deck that they could not be gotten loose, and those on board could not get ashore except by means of a small boat brought off to their relief by the Lock-keeper. As soon as Miss Nellie Sanders, of this city, and the chambermaid, the only females on the boat, were taken off, Mr. H. B. Cammack, of this city, the Second Clerk, threw off his overcoat, jumped in the water and swam ashore with a line, which he made fast to a tree but the capstan failed to work and the boat drifted down stream. He was followed by most of the crew, many of whom he had to pull out of the water, where they were clinging to willows on the river bank. Capt. Sam Sanders, the old veteran, was temporarily in command of the boat, and was the last to leave her, being taken off in a skiff. Mr. Cammack walked down to Carrollton, a distance of four miles, after he got ashore, to enter a protest for the boat, and had his ears badly frosted. The boat sets squarely upon the bottom of the river and it is thought can be raised without great damage. The Kentucky River Navigation Company, who own her, seem to be very unfortunate, as they lost the Fannie Freese in November by fire at the Madison wharf, and now have several troublesome law suits with parties who were damaged by the fire.

The boat cost $12,000 and is fully covered by fire and marine insurance. The Underwriters have her in charge and will raise her in a few days.

Persons wishing to buy a farm should not forget that the sale of Elder John A. Siderer's place comes off on Tuesday.

Ex-Gov. John P. St. John, of Kansas, will deliver a temperance lecture at the Opera House on Wednesday evening next, Feb. 18th.

During the thunder storm Monday morning the lightning ran into the telephone exchange and damaged the switch board considerably.

The grand jury failed to indict Thos. Dobson, colored, for the cutting of Bud Egbert, the proof before them showing that he acted in self-defense.

Rev. J. B. Tharp has accepted a call to take charge of the Baptist Church at Lagrange half his time, and has removed his family from Louisville to that place.

Mr. Wm. O. Riddell, formerly of this city but now of Richmond, was married on the 5th inst to Miss Amelia Fox, daughter of a leading farmer of Madison county.

During the thunder storm of Monday morning the wire of the Louisville telephone line was struck near the residence of Mr. Jos. Robinson and four poles shattered.

Mrs. Emily Tubman, of Augusta, Georgia, sister of Mr. L. A. Thomas, of this city, has recently given $1,000 towards the erection of a Christian Church in Athens, Georgia.

Capt. Sam. Sanders has been steam-boating on the Ohio and Kentucky rivers for fifty-three years and never had a serious accident to happen to a boat under his charge until the sinking of the Hornet on Tuesday.

Our Bridgeport correspondent was mistaken in stating last week that Mr. Colon M. Jones had purchased the Whittington place, as we are informed by Mr. Jones that he did not buy it, and the price given was much less than is asked for the place.

Frankfort Commandery, No. 4, Knights Templar, will meet in regular monthly conclave, at their asylum in Odd Fellow's Temple, on Thursday evening next, at 7 o'clock. As business of great importance will be presented a full attendance of the Sir Knights is desired.

If the ground hog really did skip back into his hole after seeing his shadow on the 2d inst. he acted wisely, for everyone else in this section felt like following his example when the ragged edge of the Weather Bureau's "white cyclone" struck us on Monday night. As a weather prophet he is no slouch.

Mr. Sanford T. Egbert (Bud), who was stabbed in a difficulty on Broadway street with a colored man by the name of Thos. Dobson, on the 25th of November, died Sunday afternoon, at 2 1/2 o'clock, from the effects of his wounds. The funeral took place from the residence of his father Monday afternoon. He leaves a young wife to mourn his loss.

We are glad to say to the public, that the old reliable Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York, has resumed business in Kentucky and has re-appointed Mr. S. C. Bull their agent. It one of the oldest and is the largest Company in the world and its rates are 15 per cent less than any other Company. Call at McClure & Bros. and see Mr. Bull and let him write a policy on your life—to-day is the promise.

In the Circuit Court, Tuesday, Henry Finney, the colored boy who robbed Messrs. Wakefield & West's cash drawer about a year ago and made his escape to Chicago, was given two years in the Penitentiary.

Bob Green, colored, for stealing Henry Pulliam's gun, was given one year in the Penitentiary Wednesday.

The jury in the case of the Jenkins boys, charged with the murder of John Lewis Daily, near Peak's Mill, about two years ago, failed to agree and were discharged.

In the case of William Robinson, colored, charged with shooting Silas Miller, also colored, about two months ago, the jury found him guilty of a misdemeanor and fixed his fine at $150.

Profs. G. Hog and G. Bone seem to have corroborated each other in their weather prognostications for this month.

This is St. Valentine's day, and the comic valentine will be in demand, while school children will besiege the post-office.
